

Now is the time to join forces.

You understand the value of insurance. So it only makes sense to protect your career. There's a powerful group of people just like you, diligently working to protect the agent's role in the financing of America's health care. It's called Health Underwriters. You can become a part of this influential group by joining NAHU, CAHU and your local chapter, LAAHU, currently the largest in the nation.

So what's the catch?

For about $1.00 per day, you'll receive:

Legislative Advocacy

Our lobbyists work actively to educate our legislators on the intricacies of health care at both the state and national level. The importance of the agent's role in the delivery system is key in these discussions.

Professional Development

We are committed to helping agents and brokers reach new heights in their careers through Continuing Education courses, seminars, conferences and more. There is also a partnership with the American College, making available such prestigious designations as: Registered Health Underwriter, (RHU), Registered Employee Benefit Consultant, (REBC) and more.

Mentoring Program

Our peer-to-peer program encourages professional development by pairing newer agents with more experienced agents on everything from strategic planning to sales and marketing.

Networking

LAAHU provides a rich forum in which agents and brokers can share ideas, ask questions and learn new technologies from their peers.

Local Meetings

We offer a wide variety of health insurance related programs that appeal to a diverse audience.

State & National Meetings

Our state and local associations hold annual sales conferences. In addition, we show our lobbying power by attending important legislative meetings and national forums.

Affinity Programs

Take advantage of member-only savings on items such as Errors & Omissions Insurance, shipping, vendors, office supplies and more.

Leading Producers Round Table (LPRT)

This award and designation encourages excellence among NAHU's health and insurance professionals by recognizing their sales achievements.
